CAPITAL CRIMES.

Murders and Suicides in Washington.

HAS ALMOST REACHED A CRAZE.

The Latest Tragedy is That of a Young Artist, Who Shot and Instantly Killed His Wife and Then Ended His Own Existence—Accidents.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Wife murder and suicide is becoming the popular craze in Washington.

On Sunday night, Jan. 31 last, Howard J. Schneider, to all appearances willfully and maliciously shot and killed his wife and her brother, Frank Hamlink, while they were on their way to church. The cause of the deed was that Mrs. Schneider refused to live with her husband on account of his bad conduct. His trial begins today.

Following this tragedy a saloon keeper named "Paddy" White, while intoxicated, shot his wife through the lungs, she dying from the wound yesterday morning.

About 1:15 p. m. yesterday Ferneligh L. Montague, an English artist aged fifty-seven years and living at 518 Fourth street, N. E., shot and instantly killed his wife, Emma Montague, thirty-one years of age. He then shot himself in the mouth, dying instantly. The cause of the deed can not be definitely learned as the parties lived alone, but it is attributed to despondency and a desire on the part of both to end the struggle for existence.

Meager information of the history of Montague and his wife was obtained from Mr. Charles Moore, private secretary to Senator McMillin. About a year ago the senator bought a painting of Montague, not because of any particular excellence of the picture, but to aid a struggling artist. Three or four weeks ago Montague asked permission to hang two of his paintings in the room of the senate committee on the District of Columbia, of which committee Senator McMillin is chairman. The request was granted, and the paintings were inspected by a number of senators, but they were evidently not fancied as neither was purchased. One painting was an English scene near the home of the Wordsworths, and the other was a scene which is described as having the appearance of a snowstorm on the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Montague, the artist's wife, came to the committee room one day last week to look after the paintings and she was asked to have them removed, as there was no likelihood of their being sold. This she did, saying at the time that her husband was not well. Mr. Moore said that she appeared to be very bright on the occasions she called, but her husband appeared morose and despondent, and seemed to be in poor circumstances.

Another fatality occurred here yesterday. Paul Cullen, a white boy fourteen years of age, living at 489 Maryland avenue, S. W., was run over and killed by Engine 186 of the Baltimore and Potomac railroad at sixth and C streets, S. W. The engineer was John Diehl, the conductor of the train attached to the engine was Frank Holland.

What may prove to be a fatal accident occurred in Anacostia, a suburb of Washington, yesterday. Sidney Biever, son of a prominent real estate man, while out horseback riding, lost control of his horse and was thrown. Policeman Branson, while attempting to assist him, was kicked on the left temple by the animal, crushing his skull. He is in a critical condition.

CAR HEATER EXPLODES.

Sixteen People Injured, Two Probably Fatally.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 7.—The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train, one here at midnight last night had just passed Kilmel, a small station eight miles north of here, when the passengers and trainmen were startled by an explosion. The car-heating apparatus in the smoking car had exploded with fearful force and wounded several passengers, two of them probably fatally.

Conductor Lamon and fifteen passengers were buried in the debris in the front end of the car. When they were extricated it was found that every person in the smoker was more or less injured, but only two of them seriously. Those worst injured were: Alexander Ericson, of Armourdale, Kan., badly cut about the face and neck and injured internally; he may live, but his condition is critical. Almon Richards, of Topeka, Kan., frightfully hurt. He was sitting near the heater and got the full force of the explosion. His legs are cut and scalded, while his feet are laid open to the bone. He can not recover.

Other injured passengers were: John Shaver, of North Topeka, cut about the head and scalded; John Swartz, of North Topeka, hand cut and left eye scalded; J. L. Brown, of Plattsmouth, Neb., burned about the face and scalded about the eyes.

The injured were taken from the wreck and are at Christ's hospital in this city. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Oil Excitement.

CELINA, O., March 7.—The oil question is being agitated in the western portion of this county to a high degree. The field in question borders on the Jay county (Ind.) field, and prospects for good developments are favorable. This section of the county has been swarmed with oil leasers for some time past, and it is thought that the Standard Oil company is at the back of it, and are confident of a great strike there. Operations to develop will be instituted soon, for they think they can get oil in Mercer county in paying quantities.

OSCAR JONES MUST DIE.

The Slayer of Marshal Vice Sentenced to Hang.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., March 7.—The trial of the negro, Oscar Jones, for the murder of Taylor Vice, marshal of the town of Sharpsburg, which has been in progress in the circuit court here for nearly a week, was concluded about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the jury bringing in a verdict of murder in the first degree and fixing the punishment at death. The verdict was greeted by applause by those who crowded the court house, but the prisoner stood unmoved and apparently unconcerned.

The crime for which Jones is to hang was committed in the town of Sharpsburg last Christmas Eve. Taylor Vice, marshal of the town, had arrested a son of Oscar Jones for disorderly conduct, when the boy's father came up behind with a long bladed knife and struck the marshal in the stomach, then pulled the knife around several inches, making a wound from which death resulted in a short time. The condemned is fifty years old, and has the reputation of being a bad man. Vice was the second man he had killed.

Mystery Solved.

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 7.—The Dune Park mystery has been solved, by the almost positive identification of the mangled remains as the body of T. C. Cady, of Chicago, who has been missing for several weeks. Feb. 23 the body of an unknown man was found on the railroad track near the station above named. An inquest was held, and the body interred. Detectives in the service of the Lake Shore Railroad company set about to unravel the mystery, with the result of confirming their belief that Cady and the unknown are one and the same. The body will be disinterred. The unfortunate man was robbed and then murdered.

Acting of a Madman.

ANDERSON, Ind., March 7.—Henry J. Lawrence, crazed by grip, and goaded to desperation by the cruel desertion of his wife, went to the residence of C. F. Friel, where she was staying, and, bursting in the door, created a panic by assaulting the inmates. It took four men to subdue him. After being ejected he went to the East Lynn church, where a revival was being held, and brought the meeting to an abrupt close. The maniac was finally overpowered before doing any personal injury.

A Deadly Blast.

NASHVILLE, March 7.—News has just arrived that Charley Kennedy was blown to atoms and John Eldridge badly hurt in an explosion near Oakhill, in east Tennessee. The two bored holes in four trees standing very close, and while Kennedy was stooping over the blast powder placed in one of the trees Eldridge touched the fuse off with a match, and moment more had been knocked down by a flying piece of wood. Kennedy's body was frightfully torn and scattered about.

Died a Horrible Death.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 7.—Friday the body of Austin Gilbert was found at his residence, near Brighton, this county. Gilbert was one of the most eccentric characters in this county. He was about forty-five years old, a bachelor, worth several thousand dollars, yet lived alone in a house little better than a hog pen. Death resulted from blood poisoning, caused by carbuncles which nearly covered his body. He opened them with a dirty pair of shears, which caused poisoning.

The Wounded Express Messenger Insane.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 7.—McInerney, the express messenger who was shot by Oliver Perry, the train robber, a week ago yesterday morning at Lyons, is reported to be insane. He has been out of his head at intervals ever since the shooting. His mother is also in a dangerous condition from the effects of the shock, and she has not been told of her son's condition, fearing that she might die of heart disease, of which she suffers.

Hardware Merchant Missing.

COLLEGE CORNER, O., March 7.—Lafayette Smoyer, a prominent hardware merchant of this place, left here Thursday morning en route for Cincinnati, intending to lay in a stock of hardware, and return home the same evening, but up to the present time has not put in an appearance. Grave doubts are entertained regarding his mysterious absence. He is a very prominent and well respected citizen.

Veteran Sunday School Superintendent.

COLUMBUS, Ind., March 7.—The oldest Sunday school superintendent in this county, and perhaps in this part of the state, is Joshua Lowe, of Walesboro, just south of this city. Yesterday he closed his thirty-second year as superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school at that place.

Investigation Demanded.

LAPORTE, Ind., March 7.—The case of Andrew Westervelt, a wealthy citizen, who was taken to the insane asylum last week, is causing a great deal of comment. It is hinted by many that the whole thing is a put up job to get control of his money. An investigation is demanded.

Another Relief Steamer Ready to Start.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The steamer Missouri has arrived from Philadelphia. This is the steamship which is to carry contributions of flour, etc., to the starving peasants of Russia.

Held Up by Highwaymen.

COLUMBUS, Ind., March 7.—Near Pike's Peak, Brown county, Saturday night, Henry Rickerson was robbed by two highwaymen of $620.

Indications.

Fair during the greater portion of the day, followed by showers during the night in southern portion; northeasterly winds; slightly warmer in northern portions.

A WAR IS POSSIBLE.

Serious Turn in the Behring Sea Controversy.

PRECIPITATED BY SALISBURY.

England Makes a Proposition Which, if Accepted by the United States, Would Result in the Extinction of the Seal and Leave Nothing to Arbitrate—Canadian Poachers Are Already Making Great Preparations to Begin Their Slaughter.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The complication in the Behring sea controversy between Great Britain and the United States which has assumed so acute a phase as to recall the president from his recreation at Virginia Beach, is regarded as most serious and embarrassing.

It was developed Saturday that Lord Salisbury's proposition with regard to the present season was not only to open Behring sea outside of a thirty-mile zone from Pribiloff islands to indiscriminate sealing, but to limit the catch within that belt, including, of course, the shores of the island, to 80,000 seals. In the language of a prominent official, this proposition is "wholly unfair, arrogant and even insulting to this country."

It is contended by experts that the opening of Behring sea for one season in the manner suggested would result in the speedy extermination of the seal species, and that there would then be nothing left to arbitrate upon. As one official expressed it, "it would be like arbitrating the ownership of something that had gone out of existence."

Canadian Poachers Ready.

The news from British Columbia that the sealing fleet is making preparations for unusually extensive operations this season is confirmed at the state department. Inquiry developed the fact that the number of vessels prepared to engage in sealing this year is more than double the number so engaged last year. Notwithstanding the Behring sea was closed last year and was patrolled by naval vessels of Great Britain and the United States, the catch of the poachers within its waters aggregated nearly 70,000 seals, and it is this fact that inspires the officials of this government to the belief that the opening of the sea to the extent proposed by Lord Salisbury with so many more poachers at work would inevitably result in the total destruction of the industry before next fall, possibly before the questions at issue could even be submitted to arbitration.

Our Government Will Object.

It may be stated as a fact that this government is not at all disposed to allow this to be done without making a vigorous and determined effort to prevent it. Unless Lord Salisbury recedes from his present position and consents to a renewal of last year's modus vivendi, restricting the catching of seals to such as are regarded as necessary for the welfare of the natives, it will be unnecessary for this government to undertake alone the protection of seals by the enforcement of laws bearing on the subject.

The Treaty Not Understood.

It is quite clear from inquiry at the Capitol that with the exception of a few members of the house and senate committees on foreign relations the senators and representatives are in a state of ignorance of the present condition of the negotiations between the United States and Great Britain respecting the seal fisheries. There is among them a very general, but erroneous impression that the treaty of arbitration just made between the two governments includes all the questions at issue, and that while the arbitration is in progress the sealing waters are to remain uninfested by poachers without further stipulation. Therefore, they have relieved their minds from further concern in the matter and have failed utterly to perceive the vital necessity of renewing for at least another year the modus vivendi or agreement which is about to expire by limitation and by the operation of which the seals in Behring sea were last year partly protected from destruction.

Many of the senators also believe that the arbitration treaty contains a clause renewing the modus vivendi, forgetful of the fact that if this were so, the president would not now be engaged in a strenuous effort to prolong its life, in order that at least a few of the seals may be preserved as the subject for arbitration. This ignorance of the real state of affairs at the Capitol is partially excusable, on the ground that the treaty itself has not yet reached the senate, and, indeed, it is hinted by some members, that if the British government evinces a disposition to act with fairness in the matter of the modus vivendi, it may never be sent to the senate by the president.

Those Who Know Have Fears.

While this deplorable contingency is not believed to be near at hand, the few congressmen who are informed as to the exact situation express privately their grave concern at the outlook, and fear that if the treaty fails and the contentions of the two nations relative to the rights of their subjects in Behring sea revert to the status they occupied at the beginning of negotiations several years ago, very serious international complications may be expected.

The discussion of the subject has had the effect to attract the attention, not only of the general public, but also of enterprising vessel owners, and the latter, allured by the promise of large profits from seal-taking in the northern waters, are making preparations for moving toward Behring sea in such numbers as to warrant the belief that unless the movement is promptly and vigorously checked the seal rookeries will be completely depopulated.

Active Steps Must Be Taken.

Such members of the foreign relations committees as are conversant with the subject are of the opinion that the United States can not permit this organized system of poaching to be resumed, and, that, failing in its effort to secure a renewal of the modus vivendi, in justice to the half-starved natives of the seal islands, the government will proceed, as soon as the season opens, to police the waters of Behring sea with a powerful and effective fleet, and seize all poaching vessels, regardless of nationality, or of the protests of interested nations.

While the adoption of such a course might appear to be an invitation to dispute and perhaps to more serious consequences, it is said by some members of the committees that it would be really in accordance with established diplomatic practice, which permits a nation, while its contentions are the subject of negotiation, to maintain its ground until a conclusion is reached, with the understanding that if the result of the negotiations or arbitration is against it, the nation will be under the obligation to make good any wrong it may have committed upon the right of the subjects of the party to the controversy.

Inhabitants of Alaska in Want.

Acting Treasurer Spaulding has just submitted to congress a communication from Special Agent Williams, in charge of the seal islands of Alaska, asking an appropriation of $19,500 to furnish food, fuel, clothing, etc., necessary during the ensuing fiscal year to prevent suffering and destitution among the native inhabitants of the islands. Mr. Williams' communication says that the failure in the year 1890 of the supply of killable seals, whereby only 21,000 seals were secured, and of 1891 whereby only 13,000 were taken, instead of the usual number of 100,000 annually, has left these people with about only one-sixth of the sum they formerly had for their support. Mr. Williams calls attention to the fact that, notwithstanding the limited catch of seals during 1891, there will be due to the United States within the next thirty days from the lessees of the islands $128,467 as the result of the season's catch.

FORECAST OF CONGRESS.

What Will Probably Be Done in the House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The program in the house for the week will embrace the preliminary debate on the two vital economic questions of the day—silver and tariff. The resolution from the committee on rules for a day to consider the silver bill, will be the first thing in order. It is generally expected that the resolution will be passed, as the silver men are strong enough to carry it. The anti-silver men estimate their maximum Democratic strength at eighty votes. Several Republicans are counted with the anti-silver wing. It is not expected that the whole day will be occupied in the discussion, and it is probable that some general legislation will be accomplished, Monday being suspension day.

On Tuesday the opening skirmish on the tariff question will occur. The discussion will not be confined to the three bills reported from the ways and means committee (wool, binding twine and cotton ties) but a wide latitude will be given the debate and members will be allowed to discuss any phase of the tariff. It is understood that the debate will be opened by Mr. McMillin (owing to Springer's illness) and that the time will first be accorded to the members of the ways and means committee in the order of their committee assignment.

While no one can state with certainty the length of the discussion, it is generally believed that the entire week will be consumed. Should this not occur the sundry civil, or the army appropriation bill will probably be considered.

Tariff, reciprocity and silver are each and all likely to be brought into discussion in the senate during the present week. Mr. Voorhees has signified his intention of calling up Mr. Hale's reciprocity resolution for the purpose of addressing the senate upon it. Mr. Aldrich is understood to be ready to report the result of the investigations that have been conducted by the sub-committee of the committee on finance into the workings of the tariff; and Mr. Dolph has given notice of an intention to speak upon Mr. Stanford's bill to provide a sound circulating medium with special reference to its bearing upon the agricultural interests. The pure food bill is still the continuing order after the morning hour.

BATTLING FOR LIFE.

Congressman Springer Very Low and the Worst Feared.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Representative Springer's condition is not so favorable today, the erysipelas in his head having again made its appearance. This unfavorable change has complicated matters somewhat, and the patient is not so well as he was yesterday when his temperature had become normal.

The reappearance of erysipelas in the case naturally occasioned great anxiety among the members of the family and friends of Mr. Springer, as in his weakened condition, the relapse may be difficult to overcome. Dr. Vincent, the family physician from Springfield, Ill., is living in the house and is in constant attendance upon his friend, and will from time to time consult with Drs. Custis and Verdi.

Robbed a Priest.

TERRE HAUTE, March 7.—At 5 o'clock Saturday morning three burglars broke into the residence of Father John Ryves, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic church, and putting a pistol to his head while he was in bed compelled him to get up and unlock a small iron safe that contained some money belonging to the church. They secured about $100 in small change out of the safe and a fine gold watch. After they left the priest gave the alarm. Father Ryves has furnished descriptions of the men to the police, but beyond that they have no clew.

FREE WOOL.

The Democratic Argument in Favor of It—A Few Facts and Figures.

The Springer bill is now pending in Congress to remove the tariff from wool and reduce it on woolen goods.

In 1868 there were 6,730,000 sheep in Ohio; in 1870 the number had fallen to 4,928,000; in 1889 there were only 3,943,000 reported, while in 1891 the number was given at 4,061,000.

The increase in the number of sheep in the United States has been in States west of those rivers or in localities where there was a free range upon the public domain.

As to its effect on prices, wool has steadily declined from 1867, when it was worth 62 cents per pound in currency, to the present time.

QUADRENNIAL ASSESSMENTS.

Reforms Suggested That Would Save the State $600,000 in Four Years.

In the proceedings of the Legislature published Saturday it was stated that the report of Dr. Woods on the subject of quadrennial assessments was read.

The report shows that the assessment of real estate costs for Assessors' fees, annually, more than $80,000, and the saving to the State by substituting quadrennial assessments would save in four years three-fourths of their cost, making the total savings from this item alone $237,000.

Under the present law the County Clerk in each county is required to make two copies of the Assessors' books leaving the original in the hands of the Assessor.

The Assessors' books show a shortage in acreage as compared with the reports of the Geological Survey, in round numbers of 2,000,000 acres of land.

Under the present land patent system there are hundreds of thousands of acres of land listed which have no existence whatever. The same lands are listed by several parties.

This duplicating, and even quadrupling, system robs the State annually of $12,000 to $15,000.

The estimate of savings to the State by these suggestions of reform would be in the aggregate more than $600,000 in four years.

The above is taken from the Commercial Gazette's correspondence.

BOLAN'S ALLEGED BRUTALITY.

Governor Brown's Charges Against the Ex-Warden the Subject of a Lively Discussion in the Legislature.

In the Legislature Saturday Mr. McInerney's resolution providing for an investigation of the charges of cruelty preferred by Governor Brown against Mike Bolan, ex-Warden of the penitentiary, caused a lively discussion.

Mr. Carroll thought it was a matter the House should not consider, as it was entirely personal, and no good would result from it whatever might be the report after the investigation. Mr. McInerney spoke in favor of his resolution, and said he wanted simply justice and nothing more. Mr. Pettit said he didn't know Bolan but he did know the Governor, and he believed that when the Governor said Bolan had been cruel the charge was true, but he wanted to pass the resolution and let the committee place the blame where it belonged.

Mr. O'Meara added some fuel to the flames by offering a substitute providing for a general investigation by the regular House Prison Committee of all charges of cruelty against any employe in the prison. Quite a number of members were in favor of the substitute who were opposed to the original resolutions. Mr. Whittaker spoke in its favor and took occasion to say some commendatory things of Bolan as a man and an official.

Several members thought the whole thing was simply a question of veracity between the Governor and Bolan, and the House had nothing to do with it, but Bolan's friends insisted that he had a right to prove his innocence if he was innocent, and the House should give him the opportunity.

Dr. Frazee wanted to know if any official of the State was charged with misconduct in such a way that the House could take cognizance of it.

Mr. Carroll moved to lay both the original and substitute on the table. This motion was defeated by a vote of 36 nays to 26 yeas.

Mr. Spalding, Chairman of the Committee on State Prisons, arose and in a deliberate and impressive way said: "I had not intended to say anything about this matter, but so much has been said of cruelty I want to say everything that has come before the prison committee goes to show M. P. Bolan to have been one of the best Wardens the State ever had, and one of the most humane."

Mr. Betts said the regular prison committee intended to look into all charges of cruelty and would report the result to the House. This seemed to allay the excitement to some extent, and a motion to recommit the matter to the committee was adopted by a vote of 46 to 16.

The resolution empowering the Sinking Fund Commissioners to employ a clerk at $300 per annum was reported favorably by the committee, but was defeated for want of a constitutional majority of votes—forty-seven voting for it.

A communication from the State Register of Lands was received and read. He says the business of the office has increased over 200 per cent. in the last eight years, but the fees of the office do not quite offset the expenses. He thinks it would be a detriment to the State to have the clerical force reduced.

In the Senate Mr. Anderson offered a resolution providing that the widow of the late Judge Van Young be allowed to draw his salary up to September 1 of this year.

Tomato Experiments in Oregon.

Fifty-five varieties of tomatoes were planted last season on the grounds of the Oregon experiment station. After the fruit had set, six plants of each variety were pruned back to two joints above the fruit. Plants treated in this manner yielded much larger and better fruit, but not earlier, and the plants were comparatively free from small or stunted fruit. Plants that were allowed to grow at will had a larger number of fruits to the plant, but smaller ones, thus proving that by keeping plants pruned back much better and more even fruit may be secured. But little difference could be noticed between the plants trailing on the ground and those trained to trellises.

Result of the Examining Trial of Gantz and Stewart for the Murder of Simon Travis.

The examining trial of Hiram Stewart and Charles Gantz for the murder of Simon Travis ended Saturday noon. Judge Phister didn't consider the evidence sufficient to hold the accused for further trial and the warrant was dismissed and they were released from custody.

The witnesses for the defense testified that Lutie Gray was not at the dance at Jim Davis' in Charleston Bottom on the night of the murder. She swore that she was one of the party and was present when Travis was killed. Two parties living in the West End testified that they saw the Gray woman going in the direction of Davis' home the evening before the murder, and her sister swore she went down as far as the gas works with her. The court considered the weight of the evidence, however, was in favor of the accused, and dismissed them.

Carrie Payne, one of the defendants' witnesses, was arrested after the trial on a warrant charging her with perjury, and was committed to jail.

Since the first trial of the case a year or so ago, she has made some damaging statements in regard to the case, against John Marshall, Hiram Stewart and Chas. Gantz, which she denied on the stand at this trial, but which were afterwards proven. Her examining trial was set for this morning before Squire Grant.

AN act is pending in the Legislature providing that in all trials of civil actions in the Circuit courts, three-fourths or more of the jurors concurring may return a verdict, which shall have the same force and effect as if rendered by the entire panel. MR. J. T. KACKLEY received some painful injuries this morning. He and Mr. W. R. Cady were out bicycle riding on the Fleming pike at an early hour, when he was taken ill. He got off his wheel at the bridge and was resting against the railing when he became unconscious and fell on the rocks in the bed of the creek, where he was found shortly after by Mr. Cady. He was bruised about the head considerably, but was not dangerously hurt.

THE New Orleans Picayune says: "A Breezy Time" is a farce comedy or anything else you choose to call it, with songs, dances, specialties and jokes enough to satisfy the most fastidious. The first acts are pantomimic, acrobatic and of the roaring farce description, and the last is devoted to well performed selections on musical instruments and amusing specialties. Mr. E. B. Fitz is a fat and jolly comedian. Kathryn Webster is good-looking, dresses handsomely and is a very pleasing actress. The two are good performers on a number of instruments, and are the principals in the merry-making performance."

Bloody Race War in Memphis, Tennessee.

OFFICERS SHOT BY NEGROES.

Winchesters and Shotguns Brought Into Active Use and One Thousand Soldiers Resting on Their Arms Ready to Respond to the Call of the Sheriff—An Outbreak Hourly Feared.

MEMPHIS, March 7.—Trouble has been brewing for some time between the whites and blacks in the lower quarter of the city, and Saturday night's attack on three deputy sheriffs by a mob of negroes threaten to bring matters to a crisis, and bring on a race war that will culminate in serious bloodshed. The trouble was precipitated Saturday night by an attempt to arrest Will Stewart, a negro desperado, for whom Judge Du-bose had issued a bench warrant.

Deputy Sheriffs Charles Cole, Robert Harold and Avery Young found Stewart about midnight in Calvin McDowell's grocery store, at the corner of Mississippi and Walker avenues, surrounded by a crowd of friends. The negroes had been expecting the raid and were armed with Winchesters and shotguns. At the appearance of the officers the negroes opened fire and the three officers fell, all badly wounded. They returned the fire but none of the negroes were hurt.

A posse of deputy sheriffs, who had been searching for Stewart and who were in the immediate vicinity, came to the rescue and fifteen of the blacks were placed under arrest.

The shooting caused the greatest excitement in the neighborhood, and fifteen minutes after the first shot was fired every white man was armed with a Winchester. The wounded men, all of whom were at first thought to be fatally shot, were taken to the hospital, and are still alive. Officer Cole is in a dangerous condition, however, and will hardly survive. The others, it is now believed, will recover.

The police placed fourteen more negroes under arrest yesterday, charged with complicity in the shooting.

The excitement over the shooting is increasing. The air is thick with rumors of a race conflict and groups of excited white men gathered on the streets yesterday to discuss the situation. Late in the afternoon a meeting of citizens was held at the court house to decide upon a plan of action. After a prolonged discussion it was decided to call upon all good citizens to tender their services to the sheriff to aid him in keeping the peace. That official accepted the offer and several hundred men were sworn in as deputy sheriffs. Every white man in town is a walking arsenal, and should the negroes renew the trouble, the uprising would soon be put down.

The scene of Saturday night's tragedy is in a locality notorious for its toughness. It is a hang-out for roustabouts and thieves, and the authorities have always experienced great difficulty in maintaining law and order. The negroes in that section of the city are all armed, and they are making open threats of applying the torch. The police and deputy sheriffs are arresting every suspicious character to be found, over forty having been lodged in jail. The Chickasaw guards, Hibernia rifles, Rouscier zouaves and the Bluff City artillery, numbering 1,100 soldiers, are resting on their arms, ready to respond to the call of the sheriff. The negroes are filling up on whisky and an outbreak is hourly feared.

Four shotguns and a lot of pistols and knives which were taken from the negro prisoners are in the hands of the police. Tom Moss and Will Diggs, two of the inciters of the riot, are letter carriers.

If Deputy Sheriff Cole had died yesterday, as it was reported, the entire party would have been taken from the jail and mobbed, as preparations were made and the intention was not changed until it was found that Cole was alive.

No Truth in the Report.

GLASGOW, Ky., March 7.—The story sent out from Edminton that twelve white teamsters and eleven negro farm hands had engaged in a bloody battle, near Clark's Cross Roads, in Metcalf county, Friday, is false and unfounded.

DEATH ON A TRAIN.

Startling Discovery of a Mother Who Was Going to Make a Visit.

BLANCHESTER, O., March 7.—A sad incident occurred on a westbound Midland train, between this place and Loveland, Saturday. It was the death of an infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Penquite, of near this place. They came to town and took train No. 105, at 5:37 a. m., to go to Linwood to visit Mrs. Penquite's uncle, Peter Berger. The child was seven weeks old, and apparently well and hearty on starting. Before the train reached Loveland it was dead.

A short time after leaving here the child apparently dropped into healthy slumber, and the mother stooped over and kissed it, remarking to the happy husband: "How quietly he sleeps." In a few moments she placed her hand on its face and found it cold. She became frightened and thought it was ill. In endeavoring to awaken it the passengers were attracted to the spot, and one of them remarked, pitifully: "Madam, your baby is dead!"

At Loveland a physician was called, who confirmed the opinion of the passenger, and the stricken parents boarded an eastbound train and returned to this place almost brokenhearted, only three hours after leaving, happy in the possession of the cooing infant and the anticipations of a pleasant visit.

Well Known Telegrapher Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—William Dillon, a well and favorably known telegrapher, died of consumption at his home here at 4 o'clock yesterday morning after several months' illness. Mr. Dillon was formerly a chief operator in the Western Union office, this city, and afterward connected himself with the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph company in a responsible position. During the last three years Mr. Dillon has had charge of The Ledger's special wire.

THE GRAND DUKE OF HESSE

Stricken with Paralysis and in a Critical Condition.

BERLIN, March 7.—The Grand Duke of Hesse has been seized with paralysis of the right side. He is conscious, but in a critical condition.

Most of his family are already at his bedside, including his daughter, the Princess Henry of Prussia, and his heir, Prince Ernst Ludwig.

Dispatches of inquiry as to his condition have been received from Emperor William; Queen Victoria; Luitpold, regent of Bavaria, and other German princes. There is a large crowd before the palace where he lies, and the anxiety among the people for his welfare is exceptionally great, as his liberal views and generosity to the poor of Darmstadt have made him exceedingly popular with his subjects.

Biographical.

The Grand Duke Louis IV was born Sept. 12, 1837, and was married at Osborne, Isle of Wight, on the 1st of July, 1862, to Alice, daughter of Queen Victoria. At the time of the marriage of Princess Alice the grand duke had a morganatic wife, whom he discarded for the hand of the princess. On account of the morganatic wife Queen Victoria was somewhat opposed to the match, but consented reluctantly, as Alice was deeply in love with the grand duke. Louis treated Alice well, and was a sincere mourner when she died in December, 1878.

One of their children is the Princess Elizabeth, wife of the grand duke, Sergius, of Russia. Considerable sensation was caused last year by the conversion of Elizabeth to the Russian Greek church. It was alleged at the time that she was driven to espouse her husband's religion by violence and abuse on the part of the Russian imperial family, and that her father, the grand duke, was strongly opposed to her leaving the Protestant faith, and wished her grandmother, Queen Victoria to join with him interfering. The queen, however, advised her granddaughter to comply with her husband's wishes, and sent her blessing.

Another daughter of the grand duke and Princess Alice is Irene, who is married to Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the kaiser, Prince Henry and his wife thus being grandson and granddaughter of Queen Victoria.

Another daughter named Victoria is married to Prince Louis of Battenburg.

The heir to the throne of Hesse is the Prince Ernest Louis, born Nov. 25, 1868. Should his father, the grand duke, die, the accession of Ernest Louis will see another grandchild of Queen Victoria on a European throne.

CHILD MURDERER.

A Father Throws His Own Child in the Ohio River.

CINCINNATI, March 7.—On Thursday afternoon there was discovered in the Ohio river, near North Bend, the body of a white infant child, from appearances a week old. The case has developed into a most shocking and heartless case of infanticide. It was brought to light by the volunteer detective work of two women—Mrs. Arnold and her daughter, Mrs. Moore. The facts are given as follows:

A couple, purporting to be James Dubois and wife, took rooms three weeks ago in a boarding house here at 134 Elm street, kept by Mrs. Arnold. On Sunday last Mrs. Dubois gave birth to a male child in perfect health. Wednesday Dubois announced that he intended to take the child to a niece living near Hamilton, O. For this purpose he placed it in a basket, and Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Moore assisted. Dubois left the house at 7:40 o'clock and returned at 11 o'clock. The papers of Friday morning contained an account of the finding of the dead body of a male infant in the Ohio river near Cleves.

Meantime Mrs. Moore and her mother went to Cleves, had the body examined, identified the clothing beyond question, and Saturday afternoon returned to the city and told the story to the police, and the man was arrested. The man at first denied everything, but broke down and said he went to the middle of the Chesapeake and Ohio bridge and threw the babe into the Ohio. From papers found on him it appears his name is William A. Boyce and that his home is Portland, Ind. His wife is said to be the daughter of F. J. Settle, of Muncie, Ind. Dubois gave as the cause of the crime his inability to support the child.

ASSAULTED BY A MOB.

An Officer and Brother Shot for Refusing to Give Up a Prisoner.

CHATTANOOGA, March 7.—Definite particulars have been received of the shooting of a deputy marshal by moonshiners in Polk county, near Ducktown. The officer, Charles Stuart, had arrested a man named Michael, near the North Carolina line, and was taking him to Ducktown to be tried for illicit distilling. Joseph and John Stuart, brothers of the deputy, were aiding him as guards.

They were halted by a crowd of moonshiners, who demanded that the prisoner be set free. The demand being refused, the mob opened fire upon the officers and rescued the prisoner.

Charles Stuart was shot through the temple and will die. His brother, John Stuart, was shot three times through the body and is dangerously wounded. The other brother was not injured. He stood his ground against the mob and put them all to flight, but not until after they had secured the release of their comrade. Only one man in the mob is known to have been wounded.

MARION, O., March 7.—Robert W. Lee, under charge of stealing a flock of sheep from a farmer in Saitrock township, this county, shipping the same to an eastern market and pocketing the proceeds, who was bound over to court under a $500 bond, failed to materialize, as he promised. The grand jury found an indictment of grand larceny against him, but he skipped the country and his bondsman are held for the money by the court.

Fatally Hurt by a Train.

LIMA, O., March 7.—William Neiberger, an aged resident of the South Side, was struck by an engine of the Chicago and Erie road and probably fatally injured.
